LOS ANGELES
BLAST TOLL
FIXED AT 15Total of 158 Injured When Explosion Wrecks
Neighborhood

(By Associated Press)
LOS ANGELES, Feb. 21—After a night spent probing beneath-garling searchlights, police today fixed the death toll from the city's worst explosion in 37 years at 15.

Of the 158 injured sufficiently to require hospitalization, several were feared dying.

The scene, as police and firemen shifted the blasted rubble of an electroplating plant, resembled somewhat a garishly-lit night-time movie set. Except that there was nothing fictional about the carnage.

The one-story brick plant of the J. J. O'Connor Corp. at 932 East Pico Blvd., a mile from the center of downtown Los Angeles, blew apart in a blinding flash of chemicals at 8:45 a. m. (PST) yesterday. But it was hours before a clear picture of the disaster could be pieced together.

Acid Detonates
Police and fire officials finally agreed that it was caused by the detonation of perchloric acid, an extremely unstable substance kept under pressure in refrigeration because at room temperature it is a seething, heavy liquid. But how the acid was set off remained a mystery.

O'Connor told reporters "we were doing something for the government." This, he later amplified, was the aluminum plating of hospital beds and chairs under a secret trade process. Not in the plant at the time, he was reported in collapse at his home last night.

Most of the victims of the city's worst blast since the Los Angeles Times' dynamiting killed 20 men in 1910 were in the plant or adjacent heavily damaged buildings, although a 10-year-old boy riding his bicycle several blocks away died under a plummeting piece of metal.

Hundreds of Windows Broken
Four houses were almost wrecked, windows were broken in 700 within a mile radius, glass shattered as far distant as 70 blocks, the entire downtown district was jolted as if by earthquake, sending terrified citizens to telephones, quickly jamming police and newspaper lines.

Twelve fire companies battled the resultant blaze and a dozen spot fires started by flaming debris in the neighborhood.

A towering cloud of smoke, which many witnesses likened to that in newsreels of the Bikini atom bomb blast, mushroomed up, hung over the area for minutes.

Thousands of curious thronged into the area, hampering fire and rescue operations and doing some looting, but were finally cleared out by emergency police squads.

Describes Blast
A graphic description came from Dewey Bears, 22, of South Gate, a salesman, who with his father, Frank, was in the front office on business.

"One minute we were sitting in an orderly office. The next minute there wasn't any office. I was thrown to the floor. I didn't know what happened to me. I heard him groaning on the other side of a section of roof that crashed between us. I was lucky. All the wreckage around me was light. I was able to dig myself out."

The elder Bears, 44, was dead when rescuers reached him.

Lillian O'Connor, 43, daughter of the owner, was among the seriously injured. She told investigators that normally 25 persons were employed, but that only 15 were at work yesterday.

The building department promptly posted more than a score of homes and buildings in a radius of several blocks as unsafe, and unhurt occupants were being cared for by relief agencies.

Burn To Death In Fire

XENIA, Feb. 21—Two baby boys were burned to death in a kerosene stove explosion last night while their mother, Mrs. Mary Litteral, was away from their trailer home attending a movie on her 24th birthday.

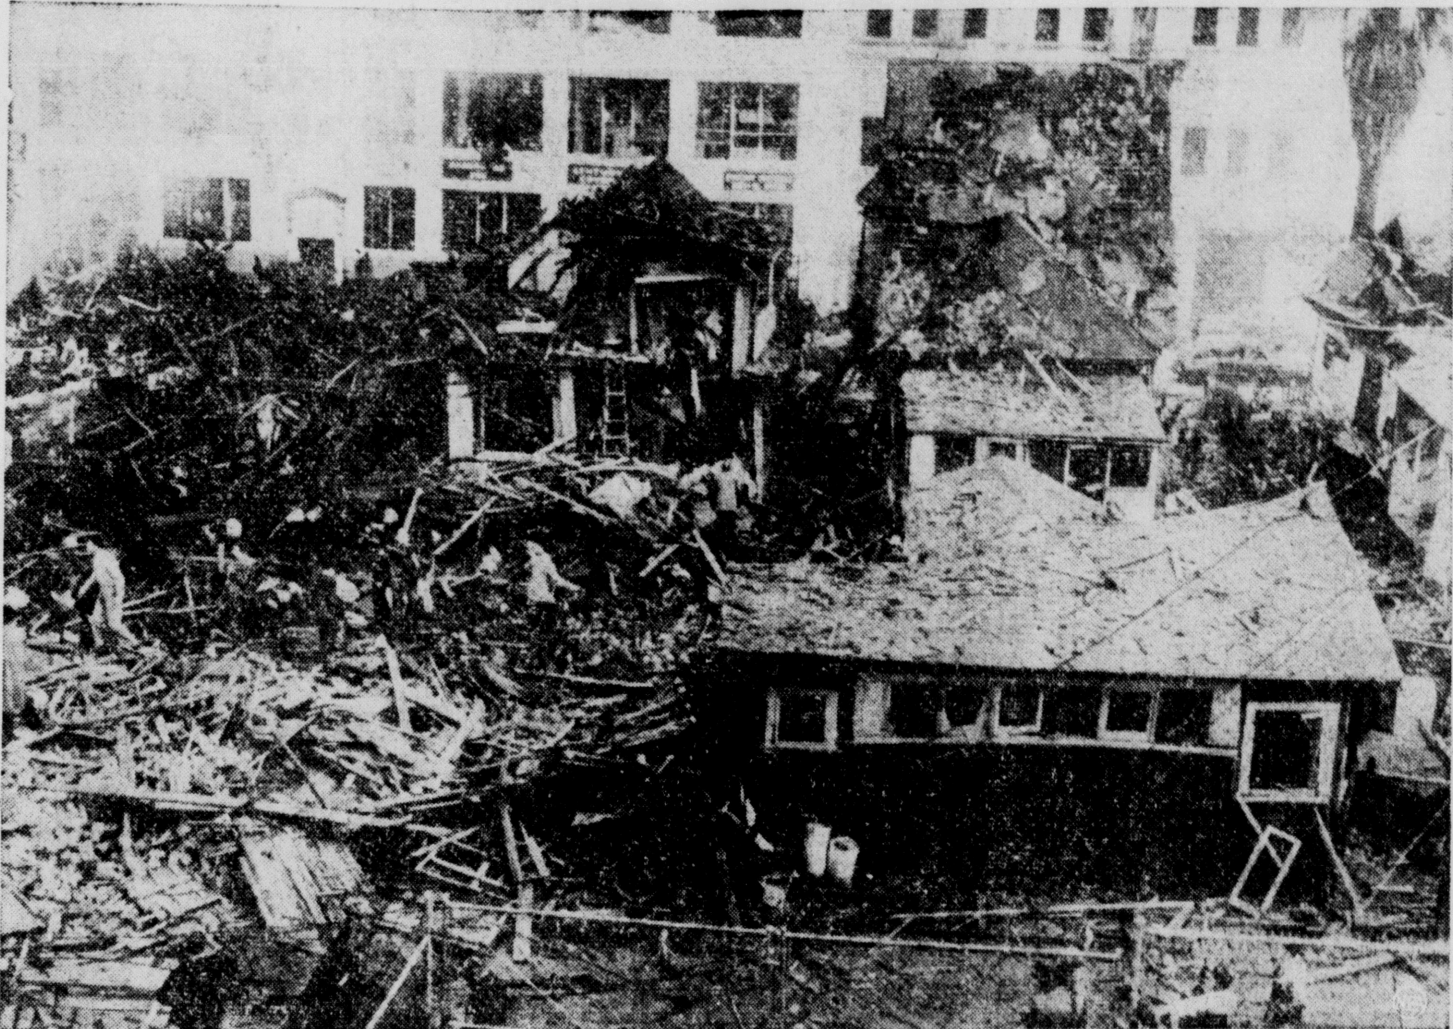

Cecil Throckmorton, 3, and Charles W. Litteral, 15 months, half brothers, died in the accident. Two neighbor children, aged 9 and 13, were with the babies in the trailer but escaped injury.

PORTAL PAY
IS OUTLAWEDAction Is Taken Today
By House Judiciary Committee

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 21—The house judiciary committee approved today a measure outlawing virtually all portal-to-portal pay claims.

The bill would also let employers advance as a defense against claims the contention that they acted in "good faith." They could offer it in controversies involving the wage-hours act, the Walsh-Healey and the Bacon-Davis acts.

The Walsh-Healey and Bacon-Davis act establish working standards which must be observed on government contracts.

The burden of proof in claiming "good faith" would rest with the employer.

Chairman Michener (R-Mich.) said the committee approved the bill "by a very large majority." Questioned further, he said that there was not a formal vote—"not even a show of hands."

He said that, under present plans, the measure is scheduled to reach the floor for action next Thursday.

'You Can't Take It With You'
Is Players Club Offering

"You Can't Take It With You," one of the outstanding plays written by Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman, comes to Salem audiences Tuesday and Wednesday at the Salem High school auditorium, the second production of the season by the Salem Players club.

Co-directed by W. E. Quillian and Mrs. Charles Trupe, the play includes a cast of 19.

The play scene is laid in the home of Grandpa Martin Vanderhof, just around the corner from Columbia university in New York City. When the curtain goes up, audiences will find a room where anything may happen. Here, meals are eaten, plays are written, snakes are collected, ballet is practiced, xylophones played and printing presses operate. In short, everyone in Grandpa Vanderhof's family lives a full life. They are all rugged individualists.

Boys Sentenced To Industrial School

The four boys involved in a series of burglaries of Salem homes and the ransacking of several parked automobiles appeared in Judge Milton C. Cope's juvenile court Thursday.

The quartet, three of whom confessed to the thefts, and the fourth who admitted trying to sell the stolen goods, were dealt with separately by Judge Cope.

One 14 and one 15 year-old were sentenced to Boys Industrial school in Lancaster and the other two, 15 and 16 years old, were placed on probation to their parents.

The quartet entered at least nine Salem homes and stole a variety of jewelry, money and watches, police said.

Several cars also were looted, they told Salem police, who arrested them Tuesday night.

TRUMAN SEEKS
RELIEF FUNDSAsks Congress For Total of
$350,000,000 For Liberated People

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21—President Truman asked congress today to vote $350,000,000 for relief aid to people of liberated countries abroad.

In a message to the legislators, the President noted that full scale supply operations by UNRRA are rapidly drawing to a close, and said: "On humanitarian grounds, and in the light of our own self-interest as well, we must not leave the unfinished. We can not abandon the peoples still in need."

UNRRA—the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation administration—is scheduled to wind up its operations March 31, although windup activities underway will continue beyond that date.

For Liberated Countries
Mr. Truman's recommendation was only for liberated countries. United States relief activities in occupied countries, such as Germany and Austria, are financed by the War department from its appropriations.

(White House aides said that former President Herbert Hoover has not yet reported to Mr. Truman on his investigation looking to long-term plans for rehabilitation of occupied areas.)

There have been complaints in congress about UNRRA's administration methods. Some legislators contend its services have been used to support governments uncooperative with the United States.

The President made no reference to this, but recommended that future United States relief assistance be given directly rather than through an international organization, and be administered under United States control.

Mr. Truman said the money he asks is designed "for the urgent relief needs for the balance of the year." He added:

"The most critical period will be in the spring and summer months, when UNRRA shipments will cease and their harvests are not yet available."

"Swift legislative action is necessary if our help is not to come too late."

While the aid was asked for "liberated" countries suffering from the "ravages of war," Mr. Truman did not mention any specific nations.

Heavy Snow Covers
Ohio; East Hard Hit

The winter's heaviest snowfall covered southern and eastern Ohio today with five inches reported in some Ohio river towns.

Salem's snowfall was estimated at three inches, while the mercury hovered around 19 degrees today. The low last night was 11 above.

Vehicular traffic was slowed by the blanket of snow and even pedestrians found the going tough.

Chillicothe reported a two inch fall and the amount increased to the south and east, reaching five inches at Chesapeake, on the Ohio river. Pittsburgh had 13 inches.

Strikers Are Sued
By Warren Concern

WARREN, Feb. 21—Picketing of a plant under conversion for fabrication of metal caskets to bear the bodies of U. S. soldiers back from Europe resulted today in a $500,000 damage suit against the CIO-United Electrical Workers.

The suit was filed by the casket firm, the Warren Stamping Co., a subsidiary of the Federal Machine & Welding Co. It also asked the court to restrain picketing, which began Wednesday.

The picket line was explained this way by union officials:

The parent company, Federal Machine & Welding, recently laid off 300 workers at one of its other plants here, but refused to re-hire them for the casket factory.

Union leaders said this was in direct violation of a contract not due to expire until April 30.

The lack of production employees was one of the reasons the company claimed, and injunction should be granted.

JUNIOR COLLEGES IN OHIO ARE PROPOSED

COLUMBUS, Feb. 21—The Ohio state friends of the public schools will meet Sunday to discuss legislation which would permit public school boards to establish junior colleges.

Dr. Jesse P. Bogue, executive secretary of the American Association of Junior Colleges, Washington, D. C., was scheduled to speak on "the need for public junior colleges in Ohio."

In a letter announcing the meeting, executive-secretary Walter G. O'Donnell of the Ohio State university economics department, said public junior colleges in California enabled 22,000 of 62,000 high school graduates to continue their education in 1938-39, compared to 12,000 of 65,000 Ohio high school graduates who went to college that year.

The Ohio friends of the public schools, headed by Dr. A. W. Elliott, editor of the Ohio magazine, is composed largely of legislative chairmen and educational directors of statewide organization.

Holds Up Pay Check For Agriculture Assistant

COLUMBUS, Feb. 21—State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson today refused to issue a payroll check for $366.66 to Edwin J. Bath, recently appointed special assistant to Director of Agriculture Frank N. Farnsworth for the one-half month ended Feb. 14.

Ferguson said he did not have all the details in connection with Bath's appointment at the $8,800 a year salary whether there had been a consolidation of offices and assignment of new duties under legal provisions.

"So far as I can ascertain," he said, "there is no section of the law that allows the director of agriculture to appoint a special assistant at huge salaries, and until such a time as I am sure Mr. Bath's appointment conforms with the law it will be necessary to withhold payment of his salary."

MULLINS GETS
3 CARS TODAY
INSTEAD OF 28Plants Throughout Ohio
Are Affected By Lack Of Shipping Space

Pennsylvania railroad officials saw little immediate relief today in the shortage of box cars for local industries as the situation grew more serious throughout Ohio.

No shutdowns because of lack of shipping facilities are foreseen in Salem.

With the Mullins Mfg. Corp. the hardest hit, having a back-log of 75 carloads of finished materials for shipment, railroad officials are searching for a means to help the situation here.

Railroad Station Agent Paul Mansfield said Mullins was given only three cars today while actually 28 are needed to move shipments.

Other Salem users are not so severely affected.

Other Local Needs

The National Sanitary Co. needs three cars today, the Salem China Co. about two to three additional a week while other users, such as the Leming Co., the Quaker City Foundry and Pittsburgh Foundry, are able to utilize cars shipped in to Salem with materials.

These cars coming in to the less severely affected plants, Mansfield said, nearly accommodate the outgoing products.

It is estimated that between 4,500 and 5,000 box cars are being put out of use monthly because of unsatisfactory condition while about 7,000 a month are being manufactured. Because of the increased business and production all over the country, this amount of new cars is not sufficient.

Railroad officials are hoping to have the production rate raised to 10,000 per month to meet the demand, but this will not relieve the situation immediately. The amount of steel available limit production of cars.

General Ohio Picture
Widespread unemployment in certain sections of Ohio threatened today due to the current shortages of boxcars.

East-to-west traffic in this highly industrialized state was particularly hard hit. Northern manufacturers declared their situation was an emergency.

An Associated Press survey disclosed these disquieting developments:

ALLIANCE—Boxcar shortages are hampering Alliance industries. The Alliance Clay Products Co., an executive said, is "about ready to close" because its production is backing up in warehouses.

WARREN—Because of this warehousing situation, the Mullins Manufacturing Co. here may have to lay off 1,500 persons "within the next few days," said A. C. Deimel, company executive.

EAST LIVERPOOL—District brick manufacturers resorted to livestock cars and built temporary roofs over gondola cars in an effort to cope with a growing shortage of box cars.

Ohio potteries in the area reported extreme delays in obtaining cars; but their situation was not as serious as that of West Virginia potteries. Joseph M. Wells, general manager of the Homer Laughlin China Co. at Newell, W. Va., foresaw a sharp curtailment in production next month unless cars were made available, and declared a "tremendous stock of finished ware" was piling up.

AKRON—The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. faces partial curtailment of production. Inability of the Robinson Clay Products Co. to ship products is interfering with the veterans' housing program.

TOLEDO—Carey-Sandusky area—one major line producing plant in this, the world's largest line producing area, was closed and others were on verge. In Toledo the situation was termed serious after the National Milling Co., largest soft wheat mill in the country, closed at noon yesterday.

CLEVELAND—Andrew Brown, traffic commissioner of the Chamber of Commerce, termed the situation "generally very bad" with "distribution to some companies slowed."

CANTON—Backlogs are threatening shutdowns of several plants in the Canton district. The Baltimore and Ohio said it could furnish only 10 per cent of the cars ordered and the Pennsylvania only a "small fraction."

Cleveland Debt Down
CLEVELAND, Feb. 21—Cleveland's total debt was reduced by $7,050,500 in 1946 and the city ended the year with a surplus of $825,835, Mayor Thomas A. Burke announced.

Canning To Mountbatten

With a little luck, British imperial rule in India will last exactly 90 years—from 1858 when the crown took over the country from the British East India Co. to 1948 when the crown is committed to withdraw. Before 1858, India had been exploited by the British and others in various degrees since 1600, when Queen Elizabeth chartered the East India Co., whose subsequent operations were so successful—and so corrupt—that two and a-half centuries later it was absorbed into the empire.

The Attlee government's announcement of British withdrawal from India after three and a-half centuries recalls the statement made by Lord Canning, who became the last representative of the East India Co. and the first representative of the British crown.

Leaving England for his post of duty, he said he hoped for a peaceful term of office but could not forget that "in the sky of India . . . a small cloud may arise, no larger than a man's hand, but which growing larger may at last threaten to burst and overwhelm us with ruin."

Lord Canning's small cloud has been growing larger for upward of a century. But in 1947 it is not so much the size of the cloud in India that matters as it is the relatively smaller ability of Great Britain to deal with its consequences.

As Marshal Wavell hands over his viceroy's post to Lord Mountbatten, who will preside over the liquidation of British rule, the once-mighty British empire is feeling the effects of two exhausting wars.

It may be suspected that in this, as in many other things, Britain is hoping for a breathing spell, to give it new strength for trials to come. It even may be suspected that in this, as in some other things, Britain is hoping for a change of the luck which has been running against it. The scheduled withdrawal from India, in this respect, couldn't happen at a better time.

The United States has gained control of the Pacific, eliminating the Japanese menace to Indian security—a menace so formidable that in 1941 and 1942 invasion was a distinct threat. It is unlikely that Russia will be able to make any inroads while India is embroiled in civil war, which is a virtual certainty; or if India somehow avoided civil war, it is unlikely that Russia would be able to offer any attractive alternative to the political independence which then would be in prospect.

There is likely to be a hiatus in foreign responsibility for India which will give Great Britain a breathing spell and may give India some needed experience in the complications of self-government.

During this hiatus, if it occurs, it will be easy to forget that India must continue to be the responsibility of a stronger foreign power in the event an aggressor nation attempts to occupy it against its will. It will be easy to forget that the British know more about India than any other people and that India still must look to them in trouble.

Independence is a state that must be earned. It is doubtful if the Indians, divided by religion, race, prejudice, language and ignorance, have earned independence. It can only be said in 1947 that the British, handicapped by the evil done in the past, weakened by the evil of the present and confused by the evil foreseeable in the future, have earned a respite.

Well, Flip My Lid

A St. Louis manufacturer of women's hats seems to have worked up a pretty good racket based on the assumption that women will wear anything on their heads provided it is presented under the right auspices and a good stiff price is charged for it.

This hatmaker, named Rodney, whips up little creations which get across a message to the observer. Each hat is made to order and in the cutest little letters and numbers imaginable advertises the wearer's name, her telephone number, or whether she's married, engaged, single or just looking around. The telephone number one is the most popular number. Prices: $39.50 up.

Rodney says the women aren't at all bashful about suggesting motifs for the hats and sometimes have to be dissuaded from flying a message which might not be in the best of taste.

If the message-bearing hat becomes popular, Rodney is going to receive an order from a male customer. It will be for a rakish black Homberg with the word "NUTS" appliqued on in the most cunning magenta letters you ever saw.

Russian Lullaby

A threadbare truism has it that people are pretty much the same the world over. If that is so, we'd like to try out the State department's first hour-long broadcast to Russia on American listeners and have Mr. Hooper or Mr. Crossley rate their reactions.

Our guess is, after reading a printed English translation of the lead-off program, that few Americans would have been listening at the finish. And we can well imagine a similar reaction in Russia—unless some pretty dull English copy comes out sparkling and dramatic in the Russian language.

This much is certain. A few programs like the first one should counteract the frequent statements by Russian writers that Americans are a jazz-mad, movie-mad, money-mad tribe. The sprightliest visible part of the State department's radio premiere—aside from recordings of "Turkey in the Straw" and "Night and Day"—was a discourse on pyribenzamine, the new synthetic chemical treatment for hay fever and similar allergies.

It may have been a cold night in Russia, and the hay fever season may have been seven months away, but they got the detailed, polysyllable words on pyribenzamine. At the end the listeners were told that "at present time pyribenzamine is being produced in limited quantities and is released only on demand by a physician."

We don't mean to put undue emphasis on this part of the broadcast. There were also news dispatches, a long, instructive talk on the structure of the United States government (first of a series), another learned description of a new method of photographing the infra-red spectrum of stars, and two more musical selections.

We don't mean to be bitter about the program, either. We just feel a little let down after the State department's buildup of the series. When it was trying unsuccessfully to buy the United Press and Associated Press news services, it rather gave the idea that these broadcasts were to constitute a sort of diplomatic Book of Revelations.

They were going to carry the truth and the real American behind the iron curtain. They would counteract critical propaganda by being purely factual. They would promote an understanding of the American common man by his Russian counterpart, and so on.

The Stars Say

For Saturday, February 22

THIS is a holiday with much promise of enjoyment and festivity, but in a thoroughly discreet and conventional manner. There is danger of accident and regret from a breach of the laws, romantic and civic. Judgment may be confused and unreliable and the emotions and impulses ready to take daring chances, impelled by strange contacts or peculiar personages.

Those whose birthday it is may find a good opening for change and new contacts in social, domestic life and cultural life, as well as in business affairs. However, erratic impulses might negate such fair prospects, since judgment is apt to be unreliable. Heed to the conventional and regular in order to avoid regrets.

A child born on this day may have kindly, laudable intentions, but impulses, emotions and mentality might swerve it into the dangerous and erratic path.

Behind The Scenes In Washington

News Notes Of Activities Of Ohio Senators, Representatives

BY EARL BERKLEY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21—Beecher E. Hess, a product of Ohio's countryside, says the history of America is more than a dull record of events.

"Our country's progress offers one of the world's best human interest stories," says the new librarian of the house of representatives. Hess, born near Hillsboro, was sworn in this week to take the place of Turner Robertson, North Carolina democrat.

Too many people, says the 54-year-old Hess, think of America's traditions as something uninteresting and old-fashioned.

"I'm out to prove otherwise. I'd like to convince everyone there's life in our history books. They offer dramatic, interesting stories of our country and its great men."

But Hess, whose parents still live at Pricetown, south of Hillsboro, isn't the bookworm type. Hess says his real hobby is books. He likes particularly biographies and history.

Has Spoken In 40 States

"I am proud," he remarked, "that it has been said of me that I know and have been known by more congressmen than any other layman. During the last five or six years, I have spoken before 600 audiences in 40 states."

In last year's election campaign he was assistant to Rep. Clarence J. Brown of Blanchester, director of the Republican congressional campaign.

Hess, who is not related to Rep. William R. Hess of Cincinnati, is a brother of Common Pleas Judge Otis R. Hess of Hamilton county. The latter formerly was municipal judge at Cincinnati.

For the last seven years, Hess has been connected with the Republican National committee. Among his other interests are old age pensions and improved social security. He holds a degree from Wilmington college, Ohio.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Don't Neglect Ear Infection

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D. OTITIS media, or infection of the middle ear, is often dangerous not only because it may damage hearing, but because of three serious hazards it may offer to life itself.

In the first place, infection in the middle ear may quickly spread to the brain, causing a dangerous infection of its lining membrane, called meningitis, or it may extend to the brain itself causing a brain abscess. In other cases it may bring about the formation of a clot in one of the large veins within the skull.

Result of Cold

Otitis media may develop as the result of a cold. The middle part of the ear is connected with the throat by a passageway known as the eustachian tube and germs can be forced through this tube by violent sneezing or by forceful blowing of the nose.

Then, too, middle-ear infection may develop during measles, influenza, or scarlet fever. In fact, during some epidemics of scarlet fever, it occurred in one of every five cases.

Fortunately, the wonder drug, penicillin, has robbed this disorder of much of its power for harm. According to Dr. Leighton F. Johnson of Boston, penicillin is by far the most effective treatment for otitis media, because it cures the infection rapidly before it has time to invade the brain or other important tissues.

Suggested Treatment

The treatment suggested by Dr. Johnson is as follows: If, on examination, it is found that the eardrum is bulging, it is cut open at once.

A culture is then made from the discharge from the ear to determine the type of germs present, and penicillin is administered by injection into a muscle.

The injections of penicillin are then repeated every three hours, day and night. The amount depends upon the age of the patient and the severity of the condition. The discharge from the ear will then clear up in about three days.

The penicillin injections should be continued for three to five days after the ear stops draining and the condition is apparently cured. If the treatment is not continued in this way, in many instances the infection seems to recur.

Penicillin may be given by mouth, but larger dosage is required when it is administered in this way. Injection of penicillin oil may also be employed when this is done, only one or two injections a day are needed.

According to Dr. Johnson, the use of this type of treatment for otitis media has prevented the development of mastoid infection in all cases which he has treated.

Letters to Dr. Bundesen should be addressed in care of 235 E. 45th st., New York City.

Boyle's COLUMN

BY HAL BOYLE

MIAMI, Fla.—The three famous "Bs" of Miami are—the boom, the blow and the bust. Every native knows them.

Now must be added a fourth "B." It's for the second boom.

A late-season rush of winter-driven northern tourists has swelled the greater Miami population to an estimated 600,000, and the resort area is cracking apart at the seams.

The twin slogans here are "no vacancy" and "empty pockets."

The hotels and rooming house owners are hanging out the "no vacancy" signs, and the tourists are saying "empty pockets" to the fancy night clubs that dish out $10,000 a week to entertainers.

For this year most visitors are coming chiefly to enjoy the resort's chief peacetime industry—the climate. They are after sun—not expensive fun.

Thus while the MacArthur causeway linking Miami and Miami Beach echoes at night with the wails of cabaret owners, the moderate priced eating places are so jammed they sometimes have to shut down early for lack of food supplies.

Some people here are just hollering because things are getting back to normal—and they can't get rich in one season," said a veteran taxi driver, commenting on the drop in night life trade. "They took the cream off the black market and war profiteers crowds last year. The folks coming now are the kind who came before the war."

One sure barometer of the reduced spending per capita is Hialeah racetrack. Betting there has fallen off 15 percent although attendance is up more than six percent over the 1946 average. One thousand more persons are going to the races each day as compared to a year ago but each day they bet $200,000 less than the average for last season.

But the daily average for the first

15 days this year was still $1,108,989—indicating that most visitors preferred a day at the races to an afternoon in the public library.

The hardest thing to find here is a hotel room—even at $30 a day. I know because I tried. A friend phoned almost every hotel in town the week before I came and finally managed to assure me one night's lodging for $17. The price was quoted to him on a rainy day.

The day I arrived it was cloudy but not raining, so the clerk noted down $19 on the registration card. When I moved out the next afternoon the sun was shining—so my bill was $20 for the room. I suppose if a bird had sung outside my window it would have been $25.

But for $30 a day I can't at this writing get a hotel room in Miami Beach, and I'm very happy about it, too. A friend took me into his house for free.

I met one $25-a-day pilgrim who has bounced in and out of six hotels in six days.

The second hardest thing to find in Miami Beach is the price of a hotel room over the telephone. Managers just hate to say $30 for a room—$60 to $100 for a suite" over the phone, although this system has one advantage: They don't see the victim collapse and fall.

One manager of a newly completed Miami Beach "baby skyscraper" hotel told an inquiring newspaper acquaintance:

"You know I won't give room prices over the phone. But"—he added genially—"two seasons like this, young man, and the joint'll be paid for."

The best hotel "horror tale" I have heard concerns a young man from Manhattan, caught without a reservation, who was finally given "overnight accommodation" at one crowded hotel for $23.

The tourist went out on a gay party that lasted most of the evening. He got to bed at 6 A. M.

Promptly at 7 A. M. the management called and said it had to have the room. The person who had reserved it had arrived early.

His one-hour nap cost the New Yorker $23.

Anger Will Etch Unpleasant Lines

By ALICIA HART

If you're the placid type, be glad of it. If you're not, learn to be.

The irritable or ill-tempered woman will lose her good looks long before her placid sister will, says a Hollywood makeup man. That's Bud Westmore, who warns that acute irritability will leave its tell-tale marks on the face, if allowed to have its way.

He says all the proof a woman needs is in her mirror, if she'll look into hers the next time she feels or acts "furious." Forewarnings of what will be etched in permanently, he says, are the unpleasant lines that play over the face when a temper snaps.

Anger also upsets body functions. And there's no greater cause of fatigue than berserk emotions which sap vitality and wipe the luster off beauty. This is why serenity should be cultivated at all costs, warns Mr. Westmore, by the woman who puts a premium on well being and good looks. And who doesn't?

1947's Newest Automobile

This is a view of the new Land Cruiser which has just been added to Studebaker's line of postwar automobiles. Although following the company's ultra-modern styling, the model is longer, roomier and more richly appointed than any previously announced by Studebaker. Harmonious interior color combinations, deep cushioning and high quality fabrics are among features which promise to make the car a standout in the luxury automobile field. The Land Cruiser will be available only as a four-door sedan.

The first public presentation of an entirely new Studebaker model combines the richest of pre-war elegance with the best of post-war styling.

The model is the 1947 Land Cruiser. Available only as a four-door sedan, it carries the now familiar Studebaker design to even higher standards of spaciousness and comfort.

"Since the Land Cruiser has only recently gone into production at the Studebaker plant in South Bend, Ind., we consider ourselves fortunate in being able to arrange a showing at this early date." "The car is longer and roomier than any we have previously shown, but it will undoubtedly become best known for its restful cushioning and tasteful interior appointments.

"Just as Studebaker beat the rest of the field with a genuine postwar car, it has built this model with a determination to excel all others in luxury."

In appearance the Land Cruiser is a longer wheelbase version of the Commander and the increased length of the body has enhanced the beauty of smoothly flowing lines. Conforming with the trend that is expected to become more pronounced in all future automobiles, passenger seats and engine have been moved forward as part of a scientific redistribution of weight. This has resulted in two major automotive achievements. Better chassis balance and a lower center of gravity have been reflected in a remarkable advance in riding ease. Secondly, passenger compartments have been lowered and extended to the former fender boundaries. Front seats are a full five feet in width.

Exteriors are further marked by the use of curved, one-piece windshields, complementing the over-all visibility that is one of the model's most impressive features. Doors are extremely wide and floors low, assuring easy movement in or out of the passenger compartment.

Color harmony as well as luxury characterizes the exclusive interiors of the Land Cruisers. Eight body colors and two shades of broadcloth upholstery are available. In addition to the superlative quality of the fabrics, pleats and tufts lend a distinctive custom-built flavor to cushioning. Wrapped cushion spring toppers are another contribution to comfort.

Appointments include adjustable rear compartment ventilation windows, assist straps, leather robe rails, fully carpeted front and rear floors, scuff pads and a tasteful application of garnish molding and stainless steel trim.

Other features frequently listed as extra-cost items but included as standard equipment on the Land Cruiser are electric clocks, positive-action windshield wipers, hill-holders and oil filters.

A delicate white cake for Mid-Lent.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX

Mid-lent calls for a brief pause to celebrate. Mid-lent, the day is called. That, of course, means a wonderful glistening cake on the table. The eggs, flour, butter and milk in the cake supply first-grade nutrients, remember. So count your cake as part of the family food—not just something extra.

Mid-Lent Cake

Two and one-quarter cups sifted cake flour, 3 teaspoons double-acting baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 1½ cups sugar, ½ cup shortening, ¾ cup milk if butter or margarine or lard is used, or 1 cup milk if vegetable or any other shortening is used, 2 eggs, unbeaten, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Sift flour once; measure into sifter with baking powder, salt, and sugar. Have shortening at room temperature; mix or stir just to soften. Sift in dry ingredients; add ¾ cup of the milk and mix until all flour is dampened. Then beat 2 minutes. Add eggs, remaining milk and vanilla and beat 1 minute longer. Turn into 9-inch layer pans or 13x9x2-inch pan.

Pan should be lined on bottom with paper, then greased. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) about 25 minutes for layers, or about 35 minutes for sheet cake. Frost with easy fluffy frosting. Note: mix cake by hand or at a low speed of electric mixer. Count only actual beating time. Or count beating strokes. Allow about 150 full strokes per minute. Scrape bowl and spoon often while mixing.

Easy Fluffy Frosting
Beat 1 egg white with dash of salt until stiff enough to hold up in peaks, but not dry. Pour ¼ cup corn syrup or honey in fine stream over egg white, beating constantly about 4 minutes, or until frosting holds its shape. Add ½ teaspoon vanilla.

United Airlines Drops Youngstown Schedule

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—The Civil Aeronautics board today authorized United Airlines to operate non-stop flights between Detroit and New York and Detroit and Allentown, Pa., eliminating stops at Youngstown, Ohio, on Route No. one.

The board said substantial savings in flight time would result from the change.

Alliance Man Named

ALLIANCE, Feb. 21.—J. P. (Pat) Gorman of Alliance has been appointed national membership director of AMVETS and will spearhead a nation-wide membership campaign, the World War II organization's national headquarters has announced.

The only creatures lower than mammals know to have blood vessels in the retinas of their eyes are fish.

The Nation Today

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON, Feb. 21—If you're puzzled by the labor terms being flung around in congress these days, here's what some of them mean.

called in voluntarily—but only voluntarily—by an employer and his workers to settle a dispute.

When they call in an arbitrator, always as a last resort, both sides agree to abide by his decision. Voluntary arbitration is often used.

But there's no law compelling arbitration. Congress won't pass such a law now. Unions and employers alike are dead set against it.

BOYCOTT—

There are two kinds: Primary and secondary boycotts. Here are examples:

Primary boycott: A union won't handle the goods of a plant with which it has a labor dispute.

Secondary boycott: A union won't handle goods of a plant which, although not in dispute with that union, is disputing with some other union.

CHECKOFF—

A union gets a boss to agree to deduct union dues and assessments from the pay of union members and turn them over to the union.

CLOSED SHOP—

No one but union members can work or be hired there.

COLLECTIVE BARGAINING—

An employer and a union, which represents his employees, bargain to make a contract over things like wages, hours and working conditions.

CONCILIATION—

Effort by an outside party, such as a representative of the U. S. conciliation service, to get an employer and his workers to settle a dispute.

FEATHERBEDDING—

Union rules which set up jobs for more workers than are necessary.

GUARANTEED OR ANNUAL WAGE—

Agreement between employer and his workers to give them a guaranteed amount of work a year, or part of a year, or a guaranteed income.

INJUNCTION—

A court order issued in a labor dispute to stop something, such as a strike.

Such orders rarely have been issued by federal courts since 1932 when congress passed the anti-injunction law, called the Norris-La Guardia act.

This law sets down rules which, among other things, makes it very tough for a federal judge to issue an injunction in a labor dispute.

(A number of states have similar laws for judges of their courts).

JURISDICTIONAL DISPUTE—

Dispute between two or more unions—not involving the employer—over organizing workers, doing a certain job, or something else. It may or may not end in a strike.

LOCKOUT—

An employer shuts down his plant because of a dispute with his employees.

MAINTENANCE OF MEMBERSHIP—

Workers who voluntarily join a union—in a shop with a maintenance of membership contract—must remain members while the contract lasts.

MEDIATION—

This is the same as conciliation.

OPEN SHOP—

When anyone can get a job and work without joining a union.

UNION SECURITY—

A union's efforts to stay strong by getting a boss to agree to a closed shop, union shop, or maintenance of membership.

UNION SHOP—

Non-union members can be hired but must, within a certain time, join the union.

HERE IS A COUNTRY HOME WORTH INVESTIGATING!
6½ acres located in fine neighborhood. Children hauled to good centralized school. This property is located about five miles north of Salem. About 2½ acres in pasture watered by spring. Balance in cultivation. Is improved with a 7-room house with furnace and electricity. Small barn, hen house, corn crib and brooder house. Some raspberries and strawberries. This is excellent berry land.
This is an ideal home for the party who wanted to keep a cow and a flock of chickens and work in town. This small farm is reasonably priced at $6,000.00. If interested, see us at once as this property will soon be in the hands of a new owner. This is one of our latest listings and will not last long.

FARM WITH QUICK POSSESSION
A good 97 acre farm south of Salem on improved road and close to Guilford Lake. The house is in fair condition and has a furnace and bath and with a little re-decorating would be very nice.
The barn has been partly rebuilt and a new silo was erected a short time ago. A large milk house and storage building are new and in perfect condition. There are several good chicken houses, a good water supply in the pasture and everything is ready for immediate return on your investment. Good proposition for a G. I. or anyone working only 40 hours in the shops.

The bureau's regional office estimated January employment at 2,196,500. For non-agricultural industries, the bureau's figures include all types except construction and government.

In non-manufacturing lines a two percent decrease during the month was described as seasonal. The January estimate of 992,400 workers showed a 10 per cent increase over the same month of 1946.

Employment in retail general merchandise, at 78,400, showed a seasonal drop of 18 per cent from December to January, but compared with 66,400 a year ago.

DEPARTMENT OF INFORMATION

Frank Tarr's talented basketball team, representing the 7th, 8th and 9th grades, entered the Struthers Invitational tourney this week with a 33-14 victory over Struthers.

The Frosh lads are now slated to take on Boardman at 5 p. m. Monday in the second round of play. Boardman faced Niles earlier this week to advance.

The Junior Clippers from Columbiana, another power-laden outfit coached by Waldo Ward, also are advancing in fine style. They defeated the Youngstown Junior High champs the other night.

Salem is anticipating entering the annual Massillon Junior High tourney at Massillon the following week. The Quakers progressed to the semi-finals there in 1946.

Another Junior High (only 7th and 8th grades) tournament is slated at Lisbon March 3, 5, 7 and 8th under the guidance of Jack Mills, Lisbon coach. Jack writes that a field of Tri-County league Junior High entries, probably Salem and any other district schools interested are invited to participate.

The deadline for Lisbon entries is Feb. 27. Contact Jack Mills at Lisbon High school.

CINDERPATH DEPARTMENT

Fred Cope, Salem High track coach, is currently working with his 1947 schedule. Fred reports that a number of regular meets are booked, along with the annual county, district and other larger meets.

Salem will entertain such outfits as Warren, Louisville, Struthers, Boardman, Youngstown Rayen and Springfield township here in dual meets. Cope says the athletic council approval has been given for Salem participation in the Cheshireville relays, the Canton McKinley relays, the district meet by the county meet.

The county meet will be in Salem this year on a Friday night. Cope says there will be a Salem Night relays in 1948, but none this year.

DEPARTMENT OF CONJECTURE

Toying with the idea of choosing an All-County basketball team, Columbiana county is similar to fusing with dynamite.

What with three such outfits as Salem, Columbiana and East Liverpool in the picture in this county along with a number of outstanding players on the other four major teams—Wellsville, Lisbon, Leetonia and East Palestine—the selection of the first five players is a severe problem without even thinking of Team No. 2 and 3, as is annually picked by The News.

Just for the information it may provide this column would appreciate a few suggestions as to first and second teams from readers, regardless of their individual team affiliations.

Let us know who you think should make up the first and second teams, considering the actions of the players themselves first and team records secondly.

STATISTICAL DEPARTMENT

Interesting to note on this page today is the county's basketball scoring race, showing Salem's Bob Payer away out in front of the field in individual performance with a 16.1 average and more points than the rest of the field in less games.

Another interesting fact is that Columbiana's entire starting five now has reached the 100 mark, one and all. The Clippers are the first to achieve that feat.

East Liverpool has three of its first five men among the top in total points and in averages, while

BOOTS AND HER BUDDIES

Clippers' Class B Powerhouse Title-Bound!

Columbiana has tournament fever once again and Clipper fans, blessed with a sincere faith in Coach John Cabas' basketball system and the ability of their once-beaten quintet, are sure that once again Columbiana is going to the state finals!

Consistency in winning has been a Cabas trait, both in basketball and football, since the youthful mentor took over the head coaching chores at the nearby community in the fall of 1944.

This season has been no exception and the powerful Clippers, beaten only by Salem's Class A powerhouse this year, are set for Class B tournament play, which starts Monday at Youngstown South's fieldhouse.

Columbiana, despite the loss of its 1945-46 high scorer, Lee Thomas, through a football injury last fall, has rolled through a tough Class B schedule without a loss to a team in its class. In fact, the Clippers have passed by nine Class A outfits in racking up a record of 16 victories against a lone defeat.

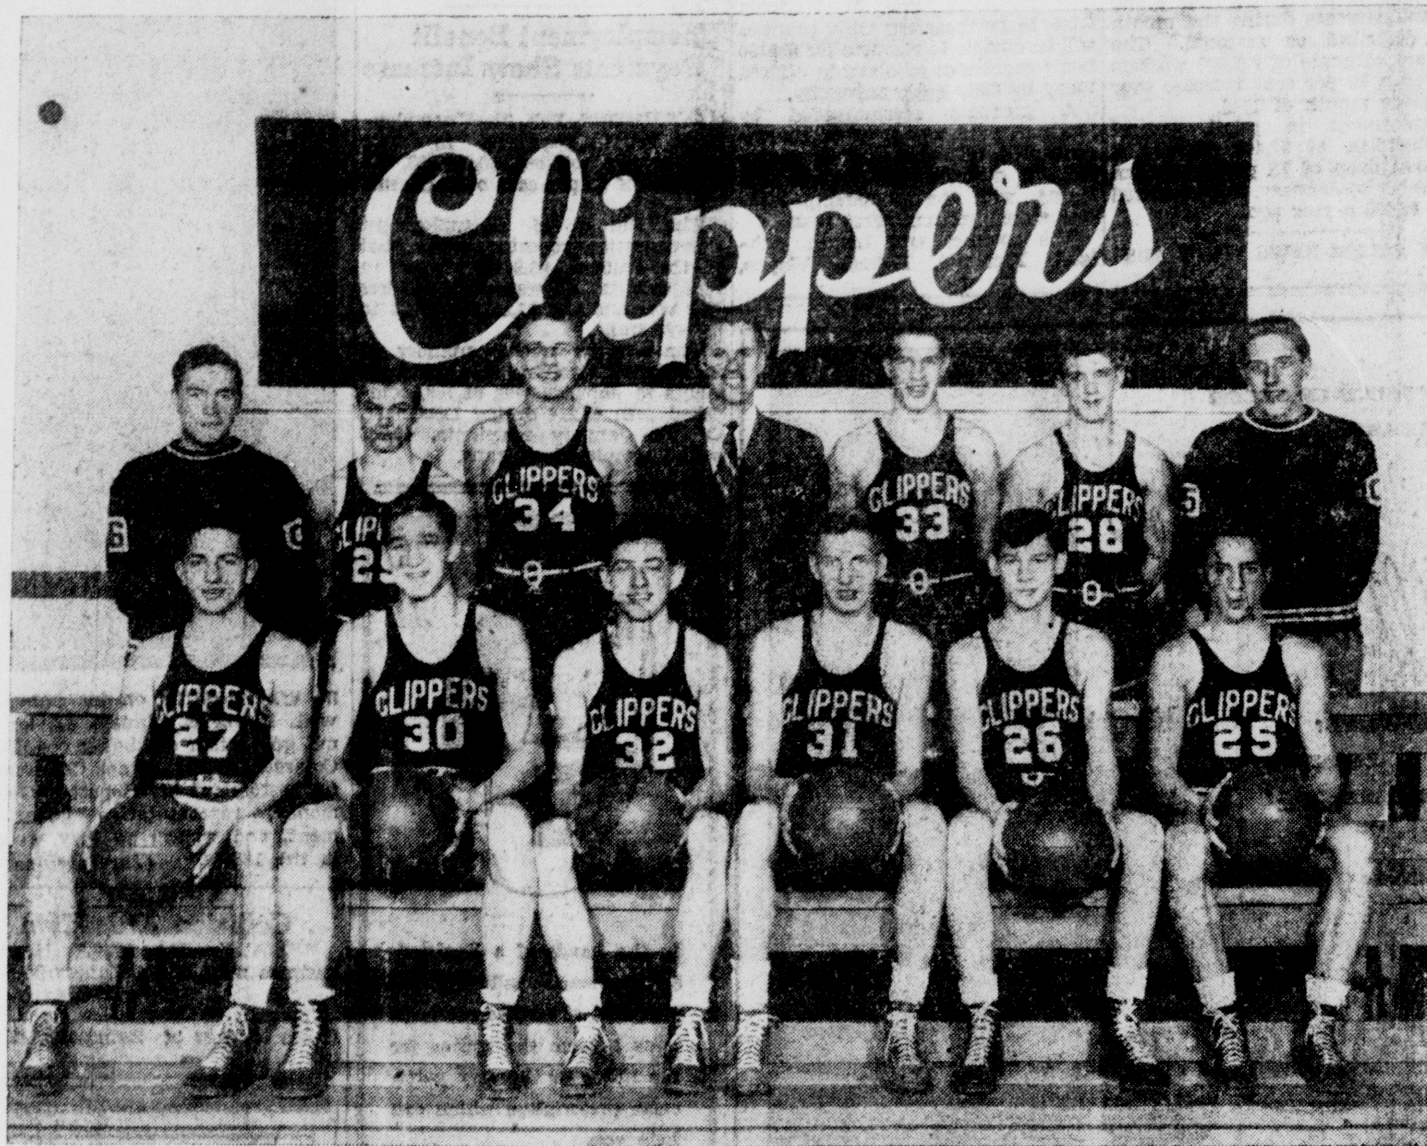

The Clippers have drawn into a comparatively easy bracket at the Youngstown B sectional and should get past Sebring, a team they previously whipped 46-27 at Sebring, and two foes later with ease.

After the Youngstown sectional, Columbiana will advance to the district B tournament at Kent State university, where the opposition gets stiffer. From Kent only four teams emerge to the regionals, also slated at Kent March 13 and 15.

To get to these future events, Cabas has moulded a machine that defies comparison in this area and is considered among the most powerful in B circles in Ohio.

Lanky Don Eisenwein, the Clippers' highest scorer this year, and Rich Reinehr, Eisenwein's assistant under the hoop, both are well over the six feet mark.

Out in the back court earlier in the season Cabas was using speedy little Rich Perkins and accurate Sammy Prizant. Rich Berryman, a holdover from two previous "great"

Columbiana teams, is the guiding man and ball handler of the crew and is by far the most consistent floor man.

Demings, Mullins Stage Hot Battle; Round Ends In Tie

The second round of the city Class A basketball league wound up Thursday night in the Memorial building, with the AMVETS and United Tool & Die both winning their games and finishing the round in a tie for top honors. They will meet Monday night in a play-off game for the round title.

Demings defeated Mullins in an overtime game 57-51 in the best game of the evening, the Moose rolled over the V. F. W. 40-17. Sports scored heavily again to win from Town Talk 66-36, United dropped the Electric Furnace 44-30, while the AMVETS trounced Ellsworth 57-36.

The Demings-Mullins fray was one of the best played in the loop this season. With the score tied 22-22 at the end of the first period, Mullins then took a six-point lead in the fourth only to see it dwindle as time ran out. With two seconds to play and Mullins ahead by one point, Torch Nedelka of Demings was awarded two free throws. He missed the first and caged the second to send the game into an overtime period, tied at 45-45.

Demings, led by Wayne Hahn, forged ahead in the overtime, by tallying 12 points to Mullins' six. Buck Rice led Demings with 21 points, followed by Hahn, who netted 15. Duober Miller (15) and Gordy Scullion (13) were high for Mullins.

Wait Brian paced the Moose to their win over the V. F. W. as the Moose first team played only a half. He collected 11 points. Moose led 13-11 at the half.

The AMVETS scored at will against Ellsworth. They held a 27-14 lead at the halfway point. Leading scorers were Doggie Scullion (18), Bob Jefferies (11) and Kirby Laughlin (14). Barnes hit 23 for Ellsworth.

Les Knepp hit 20 points, Ray McGaffick 18 and Harry Ehrhart 17 in the one sided tilt. Baird and Brudery were high for the losers with 10 each.

With Gordon Scott hitting 17 points, United Tool had little trouble with the Electric Furnace. "Tricky Bill" Fisher caged nine to follow Scott in the United scoring column. Giv Everhart meshed 12 for the losers.
